
Liberty Baptist Church In 1925

Fred Jones, who recently purchased the Tom Odor house, just southeast of the town of Appomattox, found in the house this old photograph of members of Liberty Baptist Church with the date Oct. 4, 1925. Perhaps quite a few Baptists have a copy of this photo in a trunk somewhere but may not have thought of it for quite some time. Both automobile styles and ladies fashions have changed quite a bit (to say nothing of hairdos once blonde, brunette or redhead now snowy - white). At any rate, it was only a short 44 years ago. How many of the youngsters and oldsters do you recognize? Church pastor was the Reverend W. M. Thompson.

Jamerson Will Construct Home Ec Building

J. E. Jamerson and Sons of Appomattox is the contractor for a $337,000 project at Longwood College, Farmville.

President Henry I. Willett, Jr. announced last week that the new home economics and faculty offices building at Longwood will be named for Mr. and Mrs. Martin Boyd Coyner, former faculty members.

The new home economics building will be a three-story red - brick structure encompassing some 15,000 square feet. Phase one of a two-phase construction program is scheduled for completion by Sept. 1,1970. Arhitectural plans were drawn by Cress - Phodes & Associates of Lynchburg.
